A Special Note About Our Lauda Performance

You may notice cameras in the venue during tonight's performance. We are thrilled to share that Shallaway Youth Choir is collaborating with Ruby Line Productions on an exciting new documentary: Lauda: I Like the Way You Think. This project, set for release in 2025, will shine a light on the extraordinary potential of true inclusivity through the lens of Lauda—our neuro-affirming ensemble that celebrates the unique strengths and talents of every chorister.

As chorister Charlotte Doyle beautifully puts it, “Different plants need different things to help them grow. I think Lauda is where I learned to say ‘yes’ to more stuff. You never know what’s going to happen if you say yes to something, a whole world might open up for you.” This inspiring film will follow the Lauda ensemble as they navigate rehearsals, audition for solos, form deep friendships, and experience the joys and challenges of making music together.

Directed by Lian Morrison and Wanda Nolan and produced by Ruby Line Productions with support from Elinor Gill Ratcliffe, CM, ONL, LLD (hc), CBC Atlantic, PictureNL, and the Hot Docs Slight Family Fund, the documentary offers a heartfelt and hopeful glimpse into how inclusion and community through choral art can change lives.

Please enjoy this short trailer for Lauda: I Like the Way You Think directed by Lian Morrison and Wanda Nolan, for a glimpse into the potential impact of this documentary. Supported by CBC Atlantic, PictureNL and Ruby Line Productions Inc.

Shallaway Youth Choir - Empowering young voices through excellence in choral art, we channel this dynamic medium to cultivate leadership, nurture personal growth, drive social impact and celebrate the cultures of Newfoundland and Labrador and the world.

Our Programs: Shaping Futures Through Music

Shallaway Youth Choir was founded in response to the 1992 moratorium on the Northern Cod fishery, serving as a beacon of hope, perseverance, and pride in the rich cultural heritage of Newfoundland and Labrador.

The choir is dedicated to empowering young voices through excellence in choral art, channelling this dynamic medium to cultivate leadership, nurture personal growth, drive social impact, and celebrate the cultures of Newfoundland and Labrador and the world. Committed to exploring, developing, and celebrating cultural expression, Shallaway nurtures young voices to become the best version of themselves, fostering the growth and leadership potential of each member. By centering equity, inclusion, diversity, and a sense of belonging, the choir empowers our next generation of artistic and cultural innovators in Newfoundland and Labrador, striving to create a positive social impact within and beyond the community.

Shallaway Youth Choir's artistic excellence has been recognized both nationally and internationally. We are proud recipients of the prestigious Healey Willan Prize from the Canada Council for the Arts at the National Competition for Canadian Amateur Choirs. Our choir has been honoured to receive invitations to events such as The World Choral Symposium, the International Society of Music Education, and the World Choral Expo. We have proudly represented Canada, winning numerous awards at various international competitions, including the Cork International Choral Festival, the Seghizzi International Choral Singing Competition in Italy, and the Llangollen International Musical Eisteddfod in Wales, where we were awarded the title of Children's Choir of the World.
